Handwritten text in Devanagari script on a palm leaf manuscript. The text is arranged in approximately 12 horizontal lines across the length of the leaf. The script is dark and appears to be a historical form of the language. The leaf itself is dark brown, heavily worn, and has irregular, jagged edges. There are several small, light-colored spots and areas of damage visible on the surface of the leaf, particularly along the left and bottom edges. The background of the image shows a white surface with a green grid pattern, likely a ruler or measurement scale.

[Faint handwritten Devanagari script, likely bleed-through from the reverse side.]
